Ten year Cap student wins award

Barbara Telford didn't feel comfortable with her lack of knowledge about her own country, so in her studies at Cap she focussed on learning more about Canada, and in particular, B. C. Her work has paid off, for this spring she was the winner of the College's $400 Constance MacGregor Memorial Scholarship for Canadian Studies. A resident of West Van, Barbara has been a student of Cap for ten years. She likes it here because she can take evening courses part-time and still keep her job, and she feels that often students can learn better by taking part-time courses, particularly if they have to support themselves. Barbara describes her family as "2 dogs, one bird, one cat, and some fish" and intends to eventually go to SFU or UVic as a third year student with the goal of becoming a Social Worker. Karen Lind, who was on this year's selection committee for the scholarship, added "We should all be more aware of our unique qualities as Canadians." More good luck and congratulations, Barbara.

Workshop dates set

The next Instructional Skills Workshop for faculty will be taking place August 23-27 from 9 am to 4 pm in the Dynamics Lab. Any new instructors should contact Hilary Clark (362) for information, and all instructors are welcome.

Alumni Success Story

Capilano College Commercial Music alumni Al Foreman and Steve Cross are "joining the ranks of Commercial Music students involved in Canada's growing recording industry," proclaims the Music department proudly. The two have just finished off recording their album "Contagious" at Vancouver's Ocean Sound Studios.

Let us remember Gerrie Turner

Gerrie Turner is gone from Capilano College. She died on June 2nd after a whirlwind bout with cancer. She will be sorely missed here. Gerrie loved Capilano College and her aim was always to promote excellence at the College and to improve the image of the College in the community.

She worked in many different areas of the College starting in December 1973. From March 1974 to October 1976 she was Secretary to the Principal. These were difficult times but through it all Gerrie will be remembered for her calm good humour, gentle demeanor and always even disposition.

After that she contributed her skills to many different areas: the Deans' offices, Bursar's office, Purchasing, Community Education, Job Placement and Accounting. She gave her best support and understanding wherever she was.

The friends of Gerrie Turner are establishing a scholarship fund so that we may all have a chance to do something special to honour her and remember her. The scholarship(s) will be presented to "a deserving Office Administration student(s)". Please send or bring your donations, amounts large or small, to Pat Babiuk, Ethel Sviatko or Averil McCreadie. Please make all cheques payable to: Capilano College-Gerrie Turner Memorial Fund.
